PHOTO INDICATION OF WHERE TO FIND THIS INFORMATION ON THE PACKAGING OF THE PO'S

On sale during the period starting from November 2024 to January 2025.

Why is this product dangerous?

The product is affected by a production defect that involves the stability of the heel for some of the references belonging to the article in question. From the initial checks carried out, this defect would appear to be ascribed to the insufficient length of the pin that joins the heel to the upper, resulting in partial detachment. In light of this circumstance, we are withdrawing the references concerned from the market.

What to do
